Preface

With pleasure this the First edition of Henderson's City of Regina Directory is presented to our patrons. The continuation and healthy growth of this beautiful city is a source of gratification and we have faithfully chronicled this prosperity in this volume. In our 1908 edition, 4429 names of individuals appeared, also the names of 428 firms and corporations; in all 4857 addresses being given.

Our work in compiling this valuable work of reference has been somewhat difficult this year on account of the lack of familiarity with the nomenclature of the streets and also of street numbers and the system of numbering. There is still some confusion as the numbers have not become familiar and in many cases the private addresses obtained at business places conflicted with that obtained at the residences owing to the number not being known at the former. However, in compiling the next volume this difficulty will have been largely removed.

We claim again that this volume represents more fully and clearly than any other medium the development of the city. This fact has appealed to the business community and we have added to the list of our patrons considerably, the business public appreciating the inauguration of a city directory distinct from the Western Canada Gazetteer which has hitherto served. This enables us to present a good sized volume with fine typographical appearance. By using a heavy stock and new type faces we have a volume which in size alone is an advertisement for the City of Regina. We heartily thank our patrons for their appreciation and have shown this by the pains we have taken for accuracy and completeness of information.

We are, yours sincerely

City of Regina

An incorporated city, the commercial and distributing centre and the capital of the new province of Saskatchewan; situated on the main line of the CPR, 365 miles west of Winnipeg.

The main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway bisects the city, which is also the southern terminus of the Regina & Prince Albert Railway which serves fertile districts extending 250 miles to the north. It is the western terminus of the Arcola extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway, traversing a rich and fertile country, of which 150 miles is tributary to Regina. So with the line from Sault Ste. Marie. The Canadian Northern Railway passes through the city and the Grand Trunk Pacific will tap the district of which it is the centre and will send a branch into the city. Other lines are projected. Regina is the only railway centre between Winnipeg and Calgary, a distance of 840 miles—360 from the former and 480 from the latter.

The land in the immediate vicinity of Regina is as good and fertile as that in any part of the continent of America, the soil to the south and north of the railway track being particularly rich. Generally speaking, the characteristic of the land is a black clayey loam three or four feet deep, with a subsoil of clay. It produces the finest wheat, and for vegetable and garden produce the Regina district cannot be surpassed anywhere in the world. The local market gardeners retail their produce to places forty miles away. Wheat grown in this district has been selected by the United States authorities for seed grain, and many portions of the Dominion send to the district for seed in order to improve the wheat they grow. Not only is the quality of the grain good, but the yield is great. According to the official bulletin of the government the average yield per acre of spring wheat in the Regina district during the last seven years was 20.96 bushels, a figure that is not yet reached by any other locality in the North-West.

As the provincial headquarters of the Massey-Harris Company, The American-Abell Engine and Thresher Company, the International Harvester Company, the Cockshutt Plow Company, etc., it is the centre of a steadily growing distributing trade. Among the industries of Regina are grain separators and picklers, office and bank fixtures, sash and doors and builders' materials, pressed brick and artificial stone. pork packing cement blocks, marble works, soda water, etc., aerated waters, flour mills, foundry and machine works, planing mills and furniture.

Regina's period of real progress began in 1903. Its assessment in that year was $1,024,966; in 1904 it was $2,284,710; in 1907 it was $11,-147,571. On December 31, 1904, its surplus assets over liabilities was $568,516; today the surplus has reached $1,205,535. The building operations of 1903 are said to have totalled $500,000, and of 1907, $1,177,840.

In 1889 the duties paid at Regina custom house were $2,500; in 1899 they were $18,524; in 1906-7 they will approximate $292,011. The post office revenue in 1901 was $9,607, and in 1906 $37,510.

The municipal government of the city is entrusted to an elected council consisting of mayor and aldermen. A vigorous policy of municipal ownership and operation of franchises has been inaugurated. The result is that Regina has an up-to-date electric light service and an excellent gravitation waterworks system. An equally good drainage and sewerage system is at present in course of completion and the streets and avenues are being boulevarded.

Regina was started as a prairie village, or settlement, and grew for some years rather slowly. In 1882 it was a village of tents; in 1901 its population was only 2,645; in 1907 the population was estimated at 9,000. Yet for years it has been the centre of government for vast regions including 345,000,000 acres of land. Today increasing population and production in the surrounding country have made it the commercial, judicial scholastic and political centre of the province of Saskatchewan.

The railway situation has been improved by the action of the Canadian Northern Railway in acquiring the Regina and Prince Albert railways formerly operated by the C. P. R., This line is now under C. N. R. management and an important result in the early stages of its operation has been a decided lowering of freight. passenger and express tariffs. The C. N. R. this year has completed its Regina-Brandon air line, which connects at the capital with the Prince Albert branch and makes the competition with the Canadian Pacific Railway for the trade of Saskatchewan much more effective. The Grand Trunk Pacific has definitely located its line from Yorkton to Regina, crossing the main line of that company about 80 miles Northeast of the city. It has also made preliminary arrangements for lines from Brandon to Regina and from The Canadian Paci-Portal on the United States boundary to Regina. fic Railway will build north to connect the Saskatchewan Valley with Regina and the Great Northern of J. J. Hill's system will come into the city from the Southeast. These are the principal railway developments at the present day, but it is certain that other lines will be built to serve the rich districts within easy distance of the city.

The production of wheat in the district which surrounds Regina for a radius of 20 miles was almost 4,000,000 bushels in 1906, or an average of over 26 bushels per acre.

The number of wholesale establishments has steadily increased, and the city is the chief distributing point in some branches of trade west of Winnipeg. The distribution, for instance, in 1906 amounted to about $6,000,000, an increase of 50 per cent. as compared with the preceding year. Cigar factories, a brewery, a dye works and a sand-brick plant were some of the industries which were established during the past year.

A fine new school costing $60,000, was erected in the central portion of the city in 1906, and a similar structure was built this year in the north end. A new collegiate institute, for which there is a great need is also on the building programme of the school board for the year. The provincial government is considering the erection of a new Normal School and a State University, to be located in the city is among the probabilities of the near future. There are now two daily newspapers, one semiweekly and five weeklies, the chartered banks now number 11. There are two clubs and six hotels. Stately church buildings have been put up by the Methodist, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic congregations, while the Church of England has been greatly enlarged and improved. About $180,000 has been spent on the structures, which would be a credit to a much larger city. The Baptists have during the year erected a handsome church, at a cost of more than $50,000. The Methodists have also opened a new church in the north end, to meet the needs of the people in that section.

About $65,000 has been subscribed for the establishment of a Young Men's Christian Association, and building operations have begun. The present hospital has proved insufficient for the proper care of patients, and a new institution is about to be established. It will probably be municipal in character, and there is some hope of assistance being secured from the Government of Saskatchewan, in which case, the hospital will broaden its scope and make an effort to serve the Province as a whole.

The municipal ownership and operation of the public utilities, including waterworks, sewerage and electric light has proven so successful that the services are being greatly extended and large expenditures are being made upon each branch. The programme of civic improvement now in hand calls for a total expenditure of $790,000 and this amount is to be greatly increased in the immediate future. Among the principal undertakings for 1907 were a City Hall, costing $168,000; a new fire hall, costing $25,000, and an elaborate system of parks and boulevards.

Regina's growth and improvement continue unabated, and the future hotos out the brightest prospects. As a railway point it ranks among the greatest cities of Canada, with an estimated revenue from all branches of traffic of $3,000,000 in 1906. Its general importance is recognized by the Dominion Government, which is spending $250,000 on a magnificent new Post Office and Customs House. New banks, new hotels, new warehouses, stores and office blocks, tell of a steady progress, and of the confidence which investors have in her greatness and permanence. The foundations of a fine city have been laid, broad and deep, and the work of construction and development proceeds with remarkable smoothness.

There are two compensating basins, about 3 miles from the reservoir the first having a capacity of 65,000 gallons and the second a capacity of 1,000,000 gallons, and two storage basins at the Power House having a capacity of 150,000 gallons, and 500,000 gallons respectively. to the first basin is I foot in 1,000 feet and to the second 4 feet in 1,000 feet.

Other springs are being tapped with a view to increasing the supply in this manner In case of fire a steam pump is kept at the power house to increase the pressure.

OST successful men appear successful.
You may never see the man himself.
It is his letter-head, his envelope, his business card, his circular, or his catalogue. We size him up by that. You would not say a man was successful if he sent you a business head on wrapping paper.

The man who has made a success of business leaves the things he does not know anything about to those who are competent. John Wanamaker says that his business success has been attained by knowing where to get men who could do well what he cannot do passably.

Putting work in the hands of people who will do it in the right way; this is the first steppingstone to a successful man's success.

Henderson Brothers Printing & Bookbinding

UTTING brains into your printed matter is just as essential as to put brains into the management of your business. Too often the demands of the latter are such that you can give but little time to the former. Furthermore the production of a high-grade catalogue is a specialty and you cannot be expected to master the details of the business. It is, therefore, necessary in order to secure the kind of advertising matter that attracts attention and sells goods to summon to your aid a printer who "puts brains" into his work. As you have cuts to make, and designing of a cover or title, or running head, you do not want to be dealing with two or three different concerns, because when their product comes together in the book it will be one chance in a thousand if there is harmony in size, conception, etc. The complete builder of catalogues is the one best equipped to serve you, and it is just as essential for you to select a firm of standing and reliability whom you know to be equipped to serve you as it is to select a reliable builder of a machine tool.

FROM A STUDY IN EXPRESSIO

People have learned a whole lot about printing and good taste and art. As they have learned more they require more. The people are yearly more appreciative of the artistic and of the appearance of things. There are more men in business now than ever before, but there are fewer than ever who do not see the force of reason in attractive, interesting and convincing printed matter.

Don't Lend Your DIRECTORY!

The patrons of our Directory are frequently inconvenienced by not the stranger or private citizen, who steps in, looks at the Directory, gets his information, and goes out; but by business men, who continually need it for reference, yet are TOO MEAN to buy one. These are the men who carry off your Directory "just for a few minutes," which generally means a few days or weeks unless you send for it before.

These same borrowers tell our Canvassers that they have no use for a Directory.
